

Ella Jespersen is the current President of the Utah Association for Behavior Analysis (UtABA) and serves as the Vice President of Clinical Services and Revenue Management at Kids on the Move, a non-profit organization in Utah. Throughout her eight years with Kids on the Move, including six years as the Director of the Autism Center, Ella has been committed to delivering high-quality, evidence-based services and fostering a positive, balanced work environment. In her leadership roles, both at Kids on the Move and within UtABA, Ella continues to champion the advancement of ABA therapy in Utah, striving to enhance awareness, accessibility, and the professional development of practitioners statewide.